Cincinnati honors Su Casa, Urban League and Al. Neyer for promoting diversity and inclusion

The Cincinnati Association presented the Donald and Marian Spencer Spirit of America Awards for the third year, honoring three Cincinnati area businesses and nonprofits for promoting diversity and inclusion.

The 97-year-old civic organization recognized:

» Greater Cincinnati Urban League, a nonprofit dedicated to transforming generations by promoting personal empowerment and economic self-sufficiency. It was honored for its workforce development programs.

» Su Casa, a program of Catholic Charities of Southwestern Ohio. It was honored for its support services to Latino immigrants.

» Al. Neyer, a real estate development and design-build construction firm. It was honored for its commitment to diversity and inclusion in the company and the community.

Cincinnati honored the winners at a dinner at the Hilton Cincinnati Netherland Hotel as 245 guests looked on.

The awards honor organizations and individuals that exhibit conspicuous and enduring contributions to promoting greater inclusion and diversity in the community. At the same time, the Spencer Awards celebrate the Spencers' achievements in civil rights as well as The Cincinnati Association's decades of civic activism.

The Cincinnati Association's current focus is on eliminating poverty and helping Cincinnati area residents achieve the American Dream. The association is doing that not only by advocating for diversity and inclusion but also for good government and education.

"With all the supposed divisiveness in the United States, the number of people here in this banquet room for a common cause – recognizing outstanding efforts for diversity and inclusion – should give all of us hope for the future," Cincinnati President Elliot Grossman told the crowd. "It is a wonderful sight."

The Cincinnati Association created the Spencer Awards to honor Cincinnati's "First Couple of Civil Rights." Donald Spencer, who died in 2010, was the first African American on the Cincinnati Park Board, the first African American broker on the Cincinnati Board of Realtors, and the first African American trustee at Ohio University.

Marian Spencer fought to integrate Coney Island so her children could swim in the pool. She also was the first African American president of the Woman's City Club and the first African American Cincinnati City councilwoman.

Donald was a Cincinnati Association member for many years, and Cincinnati made both Donald and Marian permanent honorary members in 2007.

Founded in 1920, Cincinnati is a membership organization dedicated to understanding the issues facing our community and pushing for progress. The lifeblood of The Cincinnati Association lies in its ability to collectively focus the efforts, energies and talents of its members on crucial issues. ## Ohio National Associates pre-frame walls for 2 new Habitat homes

Ohio National Financial Services associates pre-framed walls for two homes that will forever change the lives of the company's next Habitat for Humanity of Greater Cincinnati partner families.

The walls framed on Friday are the beginning of the homes to be located in Hartwell. The home at 225 Hunsford Street will belong to Shawn Luke and Rushia Cotton, and their daughter, and the home at 229 Hunsford Street will belong to Kenya Campbell and her son and daughter.

Later this summer, the walls will be delivered to the build site for the official construction kick-off.

The Pre-Framing Blitz is the latest collaborative effort between Ohio National and Habitat for Humanity of Greater Cincinnati. Ohio National is funding these two homes as part of a total donation of more than $500,000 made in 2014. Since 2009, Ohio National has donated more than $1.3 million to Habitat for Humanity.

To qualify for their Habitat homes, families must meet a variety of criteria and work beside volunteers from Ohio National and other organizations investing 500 hours or more of sweat equity into the construction of their homes. Habitat for Humanity of Greater Cincinnati will sell the home to the family with a 30-year, interest-free mortgage.

Information: visit www.habitat-cincinnati.org.
